

RICHARD J. HENNESSEY

Adjunct Professor, Business Department

NECB Faculty Member since ____

Education

M.B.A., Northeastern University

B.S. in Economics, University of Connecticut

U.S. Army Command and General Staff College

NECB Courses Taught

Accounting

Fundamentals of Banking

Consumer Credit Analysis

Financial Statements Analysis

Notes

Professor Hennessey started his career as an Army Engineer Officer with the US Army Corps of Engineers. Upon completion of military service he served with the US Government in Defense Contracting with the Defense Contract Administration Service. He later served as a Loan Officer with the US Small Business Administration where he rose to Chief of SBA's Finance Division in Massachusetts.

Professor Hennessey transitioned to the banking world as a Client Manager with Shawmut Bank, later Shawmut National Corporation. After various mergers he is presently a Loan Approval Officer with Bank of America in Pasadena, California.

He continued his military career with the US Army Reserves in logistics and transportation and finally the acquisitions where he benefitted from his previous and continuing expertise in Defense Contracting and Regulations. He is a retired Lt Col in the reserves.