

RICHARD ROWE

Adjunct Professor, Accounting Department

NECB Faculty Member since 1975

Education

Master's in Business Administration
Long Island University (Arthur T. Roth School)

B.S. in Business Administration
Norwich University

NECB Courses Taught

Accounting I and II
Intermediate Accounting I and II
Managerial Cost Accounting
Financial Statements for Managers

Notes

Professor Rowe is a two-time recipient of the NECB Outstanding Faculty of the Year Award and serves as Chair of the Academic and Student Affairs Committee (ASAC) at NECB.

Over the years he has taught at several other colleges and universities. Accounting related courses have been a consistent teaching assignment for him and from time to time he teaches economics and finance. He developed and teaches an "Accounting Basic" webinar course for the Financial Managers Society (FMS), a leading national educational organization, and he also serves as a faculty member for FMS's Controllers Clinic.

After serving his military obligation as a commissioned officer in the U.S. Army, he entered the business world as a staff accountant at KPMG, one of the four largest accounting firms in the world. He became a CPA and left public accounting for banking.

He has worked in the banking industry for more than 25 years and is currently the President and Chief Operating Officer at Scituate Federal Savings Bank, Scituate, Massachusetts.