

DR. PEARL STEINBUCH

Adjunct Professor, Business Department

NECB Faculty Member since 2010

Education

Ph.D. in Applied Economics & Managerial Science
The Wharton School: University of Pennsylvania

M.A., The Wharton School

Ed.M., Harvard University

B.A., Brandeis University

NECB Courses Taught

Dr. Steinbuch teaches courses in Operations Management, Research Methods, Statistics, Economics, Marketing, and Human Resources.

Notes

Dr. Steinbuch currently teaches at Mount Ida College, Undergraduate Business Administration and Graduate Masters in Management Programs. Prior to that, she taught at St. John's University in the undergraduate and MBA programs. She has been teaching for almost 15 years.

- Editorial Advisory Board: The Journal of American Academy of Business and The Business Review
- Editorial Reviewer: Institute Behavioral and Applied Management
- Fulbright Senior Specialist Program Peer Reviewer – Economics & Business Administration Discipline Committees
- Keynote Speaker: The Global Management & Information Technology Research Conference
- Publications in several academic journals
- Chair of Mount Ida Faculty Board 2008–2010
- Member of Mount Ida School of Business Visiting Committee
- Director of Mount Ida School of Business: 2005–2007