

BRAD R. WEISSMAN

NECB Teaching Assistant since 2009

Education

B.S. in Accounting and a minor in C.I.S.
Bryant College, 1999

Graduate Certificate in Forensic Accounting
Northeastern University, 2004

M.B.A. (International Business specialization)
Northeastern University, 2010

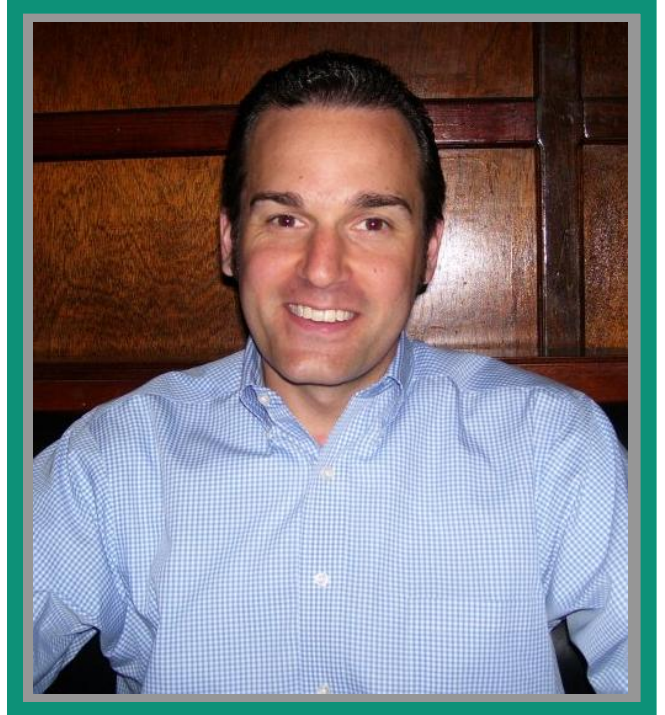

NECB Courses Taught

Principles of Management

Financial Statements for Managers

Accounting I

College Algebra

Brad currently focuses on pro-forma financial modeling and often partners with product managers to assess the financial viability of product enhancements or to drive cross-functional savings via the redesign of existing processes.

Notes

Brad R. Weissman is currently a Financial Analyst with one of the largest mutual fund companies in the United States, beginning his work there in 2006. Prior to joining the firm, Brad was employed by the leading provider of environmental services and hazardous waste disposal in North America – Clean Harbors Environmental Services, Inc. (2001 – 2006) as a Financial Analyst, before being promoted to the role of Regional Finance Manager. While at Clean Harbors, Brad was part of a $500M acquisition that grew annual sales from $230M to more than $600M in a one year period. From 1999 – 2001, Brad was employed by Deloitte & Touche LLP as a Consultant in the Enterprise Risk Services division, where he focused on information technology control reviews and SAS-70 reviews in accordance with guidelines set forth by the AICPA.